Guests:

Mary Farmiloe was introduced by Diane Brinson. Mary recently retired after 24 years as a media producer for the DNR. (She noted that she won't officially be an annuitant until March 2016!) Mary's projects numbered close to 2,500 as she worked with just about every bureau producing videos and PSA's on diverse topics such as endangered species, forestry, law enforcement, fisheries and, with Mike Lutz, she was involved with 20 educational Legal Updates. Mary won numerous awards at local and national level. She is hoping to do more scuba diving in her free time.

Ray White, a native Madisonian and former DNR employee from 1957-1972, attended the meeting. He worked in trout research throughout Wisconsin, then went to Montana State University. He now lives in Seattle, but still has a home on the Mekan River. Ray gave his perspective on the current state of Wisconsin civil service.

"Frank-n-Miller Report:"

Ed Frank said October was a good month, some losses were restored. There's a legislative proposal that decisions on health insurance made by the Board must be approved by Joint Committee on Finance. This could be problematic since deadlines are tight. There's a proposal to raise the minimum retirement age and change calculation for pension from 3 highest years to 5 highest years. COA asked for a study before this is done. Projections are that within the next 10 years, 50% of current employees will retire.

Old Business:

None

New Business:

Donations for the Second Harvest raffle are welcome. If possible, let Sheree know ahead of time what you're bringing.

He was involved in many conservation organizations, was instrumental in establishing The Nature Conservancy in Wisconsin and was honored with induction into the Conservation Hall of Fame in May 2015. There will be a memorial service at the Arboretum on November 6.

Hal Schwenn's wife Jan passed away.

Trips:

Kermit Traska just got back from a trip to Pennsylvania.

Gen Bancroft recommended a recently published book that members might like – "Apostle Island Water Trips" by John Frank. Excellent guidebook for paddlers as well as interesting history of the islands.
