Trips:

Mary Farmiloe was in the Cayman Islands scuba diving. She noted that this is an important area for black grouper spawning. Mary said that changes to species diversity were apparent in comparison to a trip she made 10 years ago. Didn't see as many kinds of fish as before.

Jokes:

Tom Thoresen shared Dave Gjestson's joke about the generosity of attorneys. It's almost like he was here...

Tribute to Ingeborg Sidwell: Given that this is the month when we celebrate the state pension system (legislation passed May 19, 1943) Dean Tvedt told the story of Ingeborg Sidwell who happens to be a relative of his. Ingeborg was a "washer woman" at the state capitol and, at age 79, was afforded no pension so she was still working. She personally sought out then Governor Goodland to advocate for the pending legislation. When she retired, her monthly check was $14.70. <http://etf.wi.gov/news/ht-70years.htm>

Meeting adjourned at 1:25 pm.
